

TV Show Party

Do you and some friends have a show you love watching together? Why not watch it together with a season finale viewing party!

My mom and her friends were big fans of the Bachelor franchise and always had a season finale viewing party (they also got together on the first episode of the season to place their bets and had much commentary on each contestant!)

Ideas to consider food/drink:

- Should you have them over a bit early to enjoy dinner together before the show begins? Potluck? Order pizza? Host cooks, someone else brings dessert?
- Will you just have apps and snacks available throughout?
- Have dinner at home, desserts together?
- Have a variety of drinks; water, sparkling water, wine, beer, soda.

Things to consider attire/decor:

- Do you want everyone to wear their comfies?
- Do you want to select a theme? We've done cowboy, yellow (the color the bachelorette wore 54932 times one season) , glamour dresses, over the top mascara, glitter/sparkles and more!
- You can do fun themed foods if you really want to step it up, check out some of the punny snacks Jen shared for the Bachelorette finale a few years back:

Hummus this the most anticipated
Bachelorette yet?!"
